LIVING WITH THE NEW HAMPSHIRE COYOTE

Co-Sponsored by NHTOA and QDMA

SPNHF Conservation Center
54 Portsmouth Street
Concord, NH 03301
July 14, 2012
From 8:00am-12:00pm

Coyotes occupy New England and can hunt in packs to take deer and are filling the niche of the wolf. This workshop will provide background information on this highly adaptable species, and highlight land management strategies that can be utilized to promote a variety of prey species for the coyote.

Please bring any questions for our panel discussion with wildlife and land management specialists.

Presenters Will Include:

Christine Schadler, Wild Canind Ecologist

Alan Johnson, QDMA landowner

Gary Speed, Coyote Control Specialist

Patrick Tate, NH Fish & Game – Furbearer specialist
